HELLHOUND TRAIL

ABOUT...

Hellhound Trail blends modern blues and alt-rock with raw energy and electrifying performances. For six years, they've shaken Kingston's music scene with swampy slide guitar, searing leads, deep grooves, and pounding rhythms. Led by Cousin Jeff's slide guitar and soulful vocals, Uncle Brandon's soaring leads, Old Man Lög's heavy bass, and Spring Heel Mat's thunderous drumming, they've become a staple at local venues and festivals like Kingston Blues Fest and Belleville Blues Festival. Their debut EP showcases their unique sound, and they're working on new material for a full-length album.

Additionally, the band within a band, Saul T Dogg's, offers a shift in tone with old-timey country before diving back into their signature high-energy blues. Hellhound Trail isn't just playing music—they're setting the road ablaze.

Follow the Trail. Stay for the Fire.
